

The University Hatchet

PUBLISHED WEEKLY BY THE STUDENTS OF THE GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY

Vol. 18; No. 9

Washington, D. C., November 25, 1921

G. U. GAME POSTPONED

Will Play Saturday Afternoon at 2.30 in Central Stadium; Both Teams to Use Same Line-Up.

Heavy rains at game time forced the Hatchetite and Catholic University authorities to postpone the Thanksgiving Day hostilities until 2.30 o'clock Saturday afternoon, November 26.

Both teams were ready and anxious to go into the fray; in fact, the Buff and Blue were on the field for ten or more minutes before it was definitely decided to call off the battle.

The two teams will line up the same Saturday afternoon in the Central Stadium as they had planned to on Turkey Day. The probable line-up:

G. Wash.	Position.	Catholic U.
Plak	L. E.	Corwin
Hart	L. T.	Toben
Jawish	L. G.	Hagen
Hughes	C.	Eberts
Mulligan	R. G.	McKeon
Connolly	R. T.	Voor
Shaw	R. E.	Lynch
Springston	Q. B.	G. McCarthy
Crouch	L. H.	Curran
Manson	R. H.	Kerrigan
Loehler	F. B.	C. McCarthy

Time of contest, 2.30 p. m.; place, Central High School stadium; officials, Referee, Thompson (Georgetown); umpire, Eberly (Swarthmore); head linesman, Cosgrove (Cornell); field judge, Harman (Bethany); time of periods, 15 minutes each.

CHERRY TREE STAFF APPOINTMENTS MADE

Business Manager Announces All Pictures Must Be Taken by Feb. 1.

Pictures for the Cherry Tree will be taken by Clineinst Studio on Fourteenth Street Northwest, according to James L. Platt, jr., business manager. Pictures taken before January 15 will be made for $2, to be paid at the time of sitting. No Cherry Tree picture will be taken on week days until after December 25.

Between January 15 and February 1 the cost will be $2.50. Sorority and fraternity pictures and all individual pictures should be taken by January 5. Organization and group pictures should be taken by January 10. Appointments should be made early. No pictures will be taken after February 1.

All students in the University who will be graduated this year are requested to mail to the Cherry Tree, 2023 G Street Northwest, the following information by December 1, typed or plainly written:

Outline of information, follow closely—Name as it is to appear in the Cherry Tree; home town and State; degree; fraternities; college honors, in order, indicating year of each; Washington address and telephone number. List this information on a separate sheet.

Karl Peterson, editor of the Cherry Tree, has announced the following staff assignments: Associate editors, Janiero Brooks, Pauline Ayers, Catharine McElroy; editor of men's athletics, Walter W. McCaslin; girls' athletics, Frances De Grange; Medical, George L. Bowen; Engineering, Hersie Phillip Ayers; Law, George L. Neilson; Teachers, Margaret Beck; Columbian, Elizabeth Earnest; organizations, Noble G. Johnson; society, Maxine Rolle; fraternity, James H. Dugan; sorority, Agnes Messer; cherries, William E. Zimmerman; art, J. Joseph W. Palmer; artists, Harvey Howard, Earl Chesney, Winifred DeVoe.

G. W. GIRL SWIMMERS HOLD TEAM TRY-OUTS

Immediate plans for girl swimmers were announced by Manager Marjorie Gerry at an organization meeting November 16 in Lisner Hall.

Try-outs were held the day after the meeting, and it was decided only those who showed ability or aptitude would be allowed the advantage of the appropriation, but that others, paying their own fees, would be admitted to the classes, which are under the instruction of Coach "Bee" Woodford. These classes are held at the Central pools Fridays from 5 p. m. on. All girls interested are invited to attend and boost the activity.

JUNIORS HOLD MIXER.

"Some party!" Maxine Girts, Junior president, declared when the Junior mixer, last Tuesday evening, was over. The Juniors turned out in full strength, more than 60 couples attending. The dancers assembled in Lisner Hall at 8.30 and jazzed full three hours to the accompaniment of a two-piece orchestra.

STARTS NEW BUILDING

Dean Hodgkins Speaks at Dedication of War Memorial Which May Be Used by G. W.

George Washington's dream, and George Washington University's need for a suitable building in which to hold its principal functions will be realized. The cornerstone of the Victory Memorial, at Sixth and B Streets, was laid last Monday. President and Mrs. Harding, Secretary John W. Weeks, Admiral Robert E. Coontz, Gen. John J. Pershing, Mrs. Henry F. Dimock, and Howard L. Hodgkins, President of George Washington University, were included among the distinguished guests.

After years of strenuous effort on the part of the George Washington Memorial Association and especially of its president, Mrs. Henry F. Dimock, the clause in George Washington's will, providing for "an institution to disseminate learning, culture, and a proper understanding of right principles of government," will be fulfilled.

Following the invocation, Secretary Weeks, president, paid glowing tribute to Mrs. Dimock, who has labored tirelessly for this cause. Dean Howard Lincoln Hodgkins then presented to the memorial association a regulation army post flag, 10 by 17. In making the presentation President Hodgkins said:

"We remember that an object dear to the heart of Washington was the development in this city and in this country of higher education.

"It is therefore appropriate that educational institutions should join in this celebration today. Therefore, as president of the George Washington University, on behalf of its Trustees, its faculties, and its students—on behalf also of the thousands, the tens of thousands, of college men and of college women who fought and labored and suffered in these recent years, I present this flag.

"As it floats, day after day, over this memorial, may it be an ever visible message, inspiring all to higher aspirations and to nobler deeds."

HATCHETITE RIFLEMEN CAPTURE TWO TROPHIES

To Challenge Georgetown and Maryland University for a Match.

Walter R. Stokes, world's rifle champion, led the George Washington University rifle team to the District championship in the match last Saturday, November 19. The successful team was composed of W. R. Stokes, G. R. Trimble, J. R. Greeley, Hugh Everett, Jr., H. C. Espey and J. M. Barry.

Opposed to the G. W. U. riflemen were some of the best shots in Washington. These men represented national guard and civilian teams. The G. W. U. team was tied with the National Capital Rifle Club's team, No. 2, in the first stage, which consisted of firing from a standing position. In the rapid fire stage the Hatchetites gained possession of the Walford cup, a handsome silver trophy. The third stage found the two teams again tied for first honors. At 600 yards the fun began. It was a neck-and-neck race to the finish. J. R. Greeley was the last man to shoot for George Washington. He was opposed to Henry Robertson, one of the best shots in the District National Guard. Robertson finished first and the result of the whole match hinged on the final shot of Greeley. He fired—and the judges announced a moment later he had scored a perfect bull's eye.

Capt. W. R. Stokes tied with Percy Gibson for individual championship, but he was outranked. J. R. Greeley was awarded the silver medal for the highest score at 300 yards. He was second at 200 yards.

The final score was as follows: G. W. U., 1096; National Capital Club No. 2, 1094; National Capital Club No. 1, 1047; Headquarters D. C. N. G., 946; Central High, 931; Company C. D. C. N. G., 899; Company A, Engineers, 840. This match ended the outdoor season until spring. The indoor matches will begin in February. The Hatchetites will challenge Georgetown and Maryland to a match later in the year.

TO START ENDOWMENT CAMPAIGN VERY SOON

Recommendation was made by the executive committee of the Board of Trustees at its last meeting Tuesday, November 22, that the campaign for an endowment fund be commenced as soon as possible. As Dean Howard L. Hodgkins has been in correspondence with managers of successful college campaigns throughout the country for some time, it is expected that the plans submitted will be acted upon immediately and an efficient campaign for an endowment fund instituted.

SCHEDULE ANNOUNCED

Home Games To Be Played at Coliseum; Many New Stars Expected To Strengthen Teams.

Candidates for the George Washington basketball team are to hold a meeting at Lisner Hall Thursday evening, December 1, and a large gathering of basketballers is expected.

Coach Bryan Morse and Manager Fitz Hurley are very optimistic as to the team's possibilities and predict a squad of 40 seasoned players. Last year's varsity squad is intact, with the exception of "Connie" Eskew, and with the new material and the men from last year's frosh quint it is expected that a merry tussle will take place for the positions.

Among the new men who should help to make the team a winner are Chesney, all Nebraska State center; Stuart, guard from Emory and Henry, and Hughes, Jawish and Ptak, from the football team.

A schedule has been made in which G. W. will run up against some of the best teams in the East. The hard matches being rather close together, G. W. probably will have to run two varsities, and with the material available, two teams of equal strength should not be difficult to get. The season will start January 3, when the Hatchetites play Loyola on the home floor at the Coliseum, Ninth and Pennsylvania Avenue, which is under the management of E. S. Whiting, who promises to give better accommodations than were obtainable last year. Along in January and February a number of big games will be played, most of them at home. Our schedule for this year includes University of Virginia, Georgetown, C. U., University of Tennessee, V. M. I., and the Navy, a schedule which, if we are victorious, will put G. W. in the lead in basketball in the South Atlantic Division.

The following is the schedule:
Jan. 2—Loyola, at home.
Jan. 6—Gallaudet, at home.
Jan. 10—William and Mary, at home.
Jan. 13—Washington College, at home.
Jan. 17—Georgetown, at home.
Jan. 20—Catholic University, at home.
Jan. 23—Georgetown, at Georgetown.
Feb. 4—Univ. of Tenn., at home.
Feb. 8—Catholic University, at Brookland.
Feb. 11—Univ. of Virginia, at home.
Feb. 15—Navy, at Annapolis.
Feb. 17—Gallaudet, at Brookland.
Feb. 21—Virginia Military Inst., at home.
Feb. 24—Washington and Lee, at Lexington.
Feb. 25—Virginia Military Institute, at Lexington.

G. W. DEBATERS DECIDE AGAINST DISARMAMENT

"Limitation of Armaments" was the subject under discussion at the meeting of the Columbian Debating Society Friday, November 18. Inasmuch as this question holds the undivided attention of the whole world today an unusually large audience witnessed a lively debate. Although the general sentiment of the world demands a reduction of armaments consistent with national safety, the decision was cast in favor of the negative, which consisted of Rosenthal, Williams and Sherman. The affirmative was represented by Reed, Stevens and Bird. Mr. Reed was selected for first honors and Mr. Rosenthal was given second.

The subject for the next debate, December 2, is: "Resolved, That Congress should enact legislation providing for a sales tax to take the place of the present corporation tax." President Perlin unofficially announced this question probably will be the subject of intercollegiate debate for this year.

SOPHS KIDNAP FROSH

President-Elect Fly Taken Into Wilds of Virginia; Pandemonium Fails To Stop Balloting.

"The lusty rap on the battered dome, The shuffling of the chairs, I think I've seen that Fly before, What a sheepish grin he wears."

It was a dark and stormy night, the moon waned, the stars shot, and the frosh gathered to elect. Lisner Hall, scene of many chapel services, of Davis Prize rantings, of convocations, resounded to the shouts of the vast mob of yearlings and full grown calves, and the hooting of the staid upperclassmen mobbed into the gallery.

Ever and anon, fresh sympathizers crowded into the hall and cheered and booed. Thus bedlam reigned until Red Shinnick, hiding discreetly behind a barrage of smoky glass, tore in and rapped the gang to order. And then the fun began. Adolescent and would-be orators raved and tore, presenting the incomparable virtues of their candidates, dwelling at length upon the high class performance each one put on in high school and promising a rejuvenation of anything and everything, even of Old George himself, were their candidates elected.

Out of the bedlam and following shouts of fraud, liar, swat the fly, and a wordy battle between Oil Manson and the spectators in the gallery, Graham Fly was declared president. Said Mr. Fry made a pretty speech and declared his surprise at the honor (old stuff). He had taken his position at the presiding chair and started to read a billet ducks, when pandemonium and sophs began to rain. Someone doused the glims and in the melee chairs began to fly like hail. Women screamed, matches sputtered, and curses roared, and when the darkness cleared the new leader of the "best class in George Washington University" wasn't. Right then he was gracing the floor of a Ford on his way to visit historic Alexandria and the Episcopal Seminary. Once there, he was dumped out to swear his way over the very rollers home.

Back in Lisner, Bob Burdick conducted the remaining elections. Miss Ruth Foster was elected vice president; Miss Agnes Nail, secretary; and Robert Bolton, treasurer.

But the election was hot stuff. More pep was in sight than at some of the football games, and the cheering mob, of all classes and kinds, enlivened the scramble. But the sophs had one put over on them, and so did the frosh. One youngster in the plebe class went all the way to Alexgezippe—and back, in the soph Ford. If the frosh don't kill him, the sophs ought to.

CHAIRMEN FOR JUNIOR WEEK ARE APPOINTED

Plans for the biggest Junior Week in the history of the University were discussed at a meeting of officers of the Junior Class last Friday evening in Lisner Hall. Chairmen for the various committees were announced by President Maxine Girts, of Columbian College, as follows: Finance committee, John Paul Earnest, jr.; Junior Prom, "Cam" Burton; Junior Reception, G. Bailee Springston; Publicity, "Doc" Nagle.

Mr. Lord, president-manager of the Glee Club, offered the assistance of that organization to make Junior Week, February 20-25, a success. It is planned to have a joint concert with the glee club of the University of Virginia on the evening of the George Washington-University of Virginia basketball game.

TRIPS FOR GLEE CLUB.

Isaac B. Lord, newly elected president manager of the Glee Club, urges all men who play any musical instruments to report to him as soon as possible or at the latest Thursday evening, December 1, when the club meets for practice in the chapel. Tentative arrangements have been made for a four-day trip next March, and other concerts are being decided on also, but the success of these plans will depend largely on the formation of a good-sized instrument club, so all who play are asked to come out for the club.

ART CLUB TO MEET.

The first meeting of the Art Club will be held in the chapel room on Tuesday, November 29, according to the vice president, Miss Winifred DeVoe.

The question of spring elections, as requested by the Student Council, will be discussed, and also the matter of real Bohemian chapter rooms at the University, where young artists contemplating masterpieces on college life may mingle with kindred spirits. Miss DeVoe extends a personal invitation to all talent in the University—"the more the merrier," she insists.

ADOPT HONOR COURT

Medical Frosh Draw Up New Honor System; Experiment Looked Upon With Interest.

At a special meeting of the freshman medical class held on the 14th instant, it was adopted by the class that a judiciary committee consisting of Messrs. Johnson, Boasworth and Thomas formulate an outline for a student court honor system to be presented to the class.

The importance of safeguarding the integrity of the class, the Medical School and the medical profession was urged by President Bob Denison. In an animated discussion that followed, Vice President Don Johnson demonstrated how the tolerance of a single dishonorable student was not only a reflection on a class but how it indicted the entire student body. A tentative outline of a student court honor system was presented by Vice President Johnson that proved to be popular with the class.

This action taken by the freshman medical class is being watched with keen interest by the other medical classes, since it represents an important step in what promises to be a successful attempt to uphold the honor of the school. It is worthy of investigation by all the class officers in the many departments of the University.

The subject of upholding the honor of a university is a subject that confronts the student body of every university. (Continued on page four.)

INCREASED ENROLLMENT REPORTED BY OFFICIALS

All Colleges Announce Larger Attendance Than Same Time Last Year.

The enrollment at George Washington University this year shows a considerable increase over that of last year. On November 15 the total number registered was 4,082, an increase of 556 over the corresponding period of last year. The grand total for 1920-21, excluding summer school, was 4,069, a number which has already been outdistanced by 13.

Columbian College, the most populous branch of the University, has 1,915 students enrolled this year, which is an increase of 200 over the corresponding period last year. The total for the entire year 1920-21 was 1,968, a number which will be far exceeded before the close of this year, according to present indications.

In the college of Arts and Sciences, also, the registration figures greatly exceed those of last year. The School of Graduate Studies has 294, an increase of 100; the College of Engineering has 495 students, according to recent figures, this number being 25 more than were registered at the same time last year; Teachers College has 300 students at present, an increase of 40.

At the Law School the registration is the largest in the history of the school. On October 15 the total was 853, of which 131 were woman students and 313 new students. By November 15 the number enrolled totaled 906, an increase of 146 over last year at the same date. The number will easily reach 1,000 by the end of the year, including midyear registrations. Reports show that in comparison with last year there are more woman students this year but fewer new students.

The Medical School has now 151 students, of which 72 are in the first year, 47 in the second, 16 in the third and 16 in the fourth. There is an increase over last year in all the classes except the fourth year, and the total increase is 38.

The Pharmacy School has 21 students, 7 more than the number enrolled last year at the same period.

FOOTBALL HOP PLANNED.

A big football hop, coming at the end of a successful football season, is the result of plans being made by the Student Council and representatives of the Senior Classes. It is to be given at the Arcade auditorium on Monday, December 5, and elaborate arrangements are being worked on to enable this affair to assume proportions equal to those of the Maytime Carnival last spring. A big band will be on hand and will be lighted off at promptly 9 p. m. and will keep the crowd in motion until 1 o'clock. The subscription is $2.50, and the proceeds will go to the student activity fund. The dance is to be informal. The committee in charge is composed of the Student Council and the Senior Class representatives. Glenn Corbett, Bob Anderson, Bob Colflesh and Walter C. Scott. The patrons and patronesses will be the Deans and their wives. The students of the University and their friends and guests are cordially invited and are assured one rollicking good time.

"Installing An Honor System"

During the past few weeks The Hatchet has received numerous letters of approval and appeals for the institution of an honor system. Elective organizations representing the student body have voiced themselves as favoring such a system, and the heads of the University are very anxious to have it installed.

The conundrum must now be solved as to who are the agents qualified to take the first steps and carry this thing through. No organization feels sufficiently confident to take upon itself this responsibility, although the members realize how valuable it would be to the school.

The Student Council is undoubtedly the organ to foster the movement, as it is the official student governing body and holds in its personnel representatives from every department. It has an honor committee, composed of three members, and this committee could solicit the help of the other student elective organizations and of the president of the University.

There are several axioms by which an honor system must function. First, membership to the honor committee must not be elective, but comprise representatives from the elective student organizations with a certain number of students in the school appointed either by the president of the University or the deans of the departments. Second, it must be a secret organization as to the members appointed by the heads of the University and in the execution of its obligations. Third, it must make itself felt among the students in a manner that will develop a greater and more honorable George Washington.

Sounds paradoxical, but most college students have to settle down before they can settle up.

There is less joy on earth when 99 sinners repent than when one coal man sees the error of his weighs.

Is it the result of some early lexicographer's whim that in our dictionary the word "marry" is followed immediately by "Mars"?

In George Washington's time the young fellows had to be careful for fear they'd step on the maidens' dresses. The fellow who can do that now will be welcome on the track team. He can do the high hurdles.

Today's nuisance—To take your girl out in your friend's flivver, only to find that it is not equipped with a foot accelerator, so that you have to keep both hands on the steering wheel.

ENOSINIAN SOCIETY TO BE REORGANIZED

Meet to Elect Officers on Centennial of Founding; Hope Expressed for Student Support.

March 6, 1922, will mark the one hundredth anniversary of the founding of the Enosinian Literary Society of G. W. U. A special program is to be arranged to celebrate this event. A meeting will be held in the chapel of Lisner Hall December 7, with George Hodgkins, '16, presiding, to reorganize the society and formulate plans for the centennial.

Officers will be elected and details of procedure will be worked out, and it is expected weekly meetings will be held.

The Enosinian Society has long been a rival of the Columbian Debating Society, debates being held annually between the two. The membership of Columbian Debating Society was composed largely of law students, while the majority of the members of the Enosinian Society were students of Columbian College.

Many students who later attained distinction in life received valuable training in the Enosinian Society, which was founded in 1822, the same year as the founding of the University, and is the oldest society in the school. It boasts of having a number of famous men as honorary members, among them Gen. Lafayette, who was entertained by the society in 1824; Washington Irving, John Q. Adams, John C. Calhoun, Daniel Webster, and Robert Y. Hayne. According to records, Dean Hodgkins was an active member, having held every office in the society.

There have been several periods of suspended activity in the long life of the organization, notably during the Civil War, from 1910 to 1915, and from the time of the entrance of the United States in the world war to last year. In 1919 the George Washington Literary Society was founded by Prof. Woodman, but it was decided the same year to assume the name and traditions of the Enosinian.

The meetings in former years were unique. Debate made up the principal part of the program, and among the subjects recorded the following are typical: "Has eloquence greater power over the passions than music?"

"Would the immediate and unconditional manumission of the slaves in the United States ameliorate their condition?" "Ought an old bachelor to be extra taxed?" "Should traffic in ardent liquors be prohibited by law?"

Fines were resorted to extensively in enforcement of the rules; for example, "Not handing in subject for debate, 25 cents"; "tardiness and no dissertation, 30 cents"; "disorder and no news, 45 cents," etc.

Ever since its founding the society has published the "Enosinian Bee," a newspaper in manuscript form. In it many unique and interesting incidents are related.

Mr. Hodgkins expressed the hope both students and faculty will cooperate in making the Enosinian Society as potent a force in developing the oratorical and literary faculties of the students in the future as it has been during the hundred years of its history.

INTERFRATERNITY ASSO. HOLDS "PEP" SMOKER

"We'll have a touchdown for G-double-U" was the spirit of a smoker held under the auspices of the Interfraternity Association at the Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity house last Tuesday evening.

William Neill, president of the Interfraternity Council, was master of ceremonies. The purpose of the smoker was to arouse school spirit for the Thanksgiving Day game with Catholic University. Two hundred faculty members, fraternity men and students were present to enjoy the cider, cakes, and various other delicacies which served as refreshments.

Bryan Morse, Director of Student Activities; DeWitt Clinton Croissant, professor of English; Henry Gratton Doyle, professor of romance languages; Elmer Louis Kayser, secretary of the University, and William Neill, president of the Interfraternity Council, were the speakers of the smoker. The main topic of all the speeches was football and the game scheduled for Thursday, but which is to be played tomorrow.

"Phi Delta Phi has not placed a team in the field, thus eliminating those games previously listed as forfeited from the respective averages of teams that had games with them," is the only statement of Manager Perry M. Johnson, of the Interfraternity bowling league, has to make at the present time.

Two more bowling matches have been held in the league's annual tournament. Sigma Phi Epsilon met Theta Delta Chi on November 13 and defeated them by a score of 3-0 in a harder fought contest than the score would seem to indicate. Sigma Nu met Sigma Chi on November 21 and waltzed over them for a score of 3-0.

NEW YORK LEGAL CLUB ELECTS ITS OFFICERS

The New York Legal Club of George Washington University held its first meeting on November 21 at the Law School, at which it officially organized and started to function. The following officers were elected temporarily until the beginning of the next semester: Mr. D. L. Sherman, president; Mr. J. P. Sorenson, vice president; and Mr. Katz, secretary and treasurer. All law students from the Empire State are eligible to membership and are urged to attend the next meeting, which will be held on Tuesday, December 6, at 8:30 p. m., at the Law School.

BIG PRIZE OFFERED TO LAW SCHOOL STUDENTS

"Students in the Law School have an excellent opportunity to compete for a set of law encyclopedias in 44 volumes, worth $260," J. W. Townsend, secretary of the Law School, announced this week.

The books, on exhibition in the Law Library, have been offered as a prize by a prominent publishing firm. The conditions of the contest are as follows: Each month throughout the school year the publishers will send printed questions to the competitors. The answers will be the citations of the volume, page, and section numbers in the encyclopedias where the subject matter of the question is treated. At the end of the year the papers will be graded and the student with the highest number of correct answers to the eight sets of questions will be awarded the prize.

The primary purpose of this competition is to teach law students "where and how" to "find the law" on any given subject.

LAW HONOR STUDENTS HELP GRADE PAPERS

The honor students of last year's law classes are assisting in grading the papers in Dean Person's recent contracts examination. As a general rule, all law examination papers are corrected by the professor, but in this instance Dean Person called on these students to assist him in view of the fact they had maintained such a high grade of scholarship last year.

These honor students are Miss Mary S. Covington and Messrs. Ashby E. Bladen, Joe Hartman, L. A. Luce, B. H. Pollitt, J. W. Hazell, T. H. Humphrey, J. A. Jordan, B. E. Nicholson, F. S. Rowley, D. H. Wheeler.

STUDENT COMMITTEE PLANS HONOR SYSTEM

Revise Constitution, Introducing Many New Features.

Effective organizations for putting the honor system into force at George Washington will be established, according to plans of the honor committee of the Student Council, consisting of Gladys Twele (chairman), Robert Colfesh and Ralph Nagle.

A revision of last year's honor constitution is being made and many new features will be introduced. When completed, the document will be submitted to the deans and the faculty for their approval. Later the constitution will be placed before the Student Council.

To enforce the system a pyramid of organizations is to be formed, of which the Student Council honor committee will be the peak. Beneath that, and meeting with it once a month to discuss plans, will be a committee composed of the presidents of the classes. And at the base of the pyramid will be committees in each class of not less than five nor more than ten members appointed by the presidents and, if possible, distributed so there will be a member in each class of the University.

The plan now being considered is to have those observing dishonesty among the students send a signed statement of the facts of the case to the Student Council. The trial of offenders will be conducted by the honor committee, and its verdict will be sent to the Student Council, where the case will be considered and the verdict and recommendation as to the action desired taken to the dean. Neither the honor committee nor the Student Council will have any power to punish or expel any student, the final action being in every case taken by the dean.

PLAN GIRLS' BASKETBALL.

A girls' basketball meeting was held Tuesday, November 15, at the home of Assistant Coach Martha McGrew. Officers attending were Bryan Morse, Capt. Martha Dunham, Manager Daisy Robison, and Assistant Manager Margaret Brewer. There was discussion of eligibility rules, the possibilities of securing a gym for practice, selection of a permanent coach, and general basketball policies. Miss McGrew seemed quite optimistic. "All our last year's letter girls are back this year with the exception of one," she stated, "and also many of the second team, so we expect this year's team to be an excellent one."

Arrangements were made for a second meeting to acquaint candidates with the rules decided upon, and to arrange for a practice meet. Accordingly, the girls met Wednesday evening, November 23, in Lisner Hall and learned from Miss Robison all requirements necessary for entrance into the varsity team. She also emphasized the need of a competent cheer leader, one with enough "peppability" to bring the basketball team to the foreground. Announcement was made of the first practice meet, which will be held Thursday, December 1, at 7:30, in Wilson Normal gym. All girls interested are urged to attend to help promote interest in the activities.

OFFERS PRIZE CONTEST

The Institute of International Education announces a prize essay contest on the subject, "The Far East: The Key to the Armament Problem." Three prizes totaling $300 have been offered. The contest is open to any undergraduate student in any college or university in the United States. Further information on the contest may be secured from the bulletin board in Lisner Hall or The Hatchet office.

SOPHS TO HOLD MIXER

Plans are being formulated for a big joint mixer of the sophs, to be held in Lisner Hall at 8:30 p. m. December 6. It is in charge of the chairman of the finance committee, Arthur J. Rosenlund; Noble Johnson, entertainment chairman; and Francis Brown, treasurer. Every soph is asked to see a member of the finance committee and pay the 50 cents they are assessed. Clyde Tolson, president of the class, said great efforts would be made to make this mixer the best of its kind.

less students who are not appreciative of the importance of safeguarding the integrity of the institution of which they constitute a part.

The outline as adopted by the committee is herewith presented with the anticipation that interest in this important project will be stimulated throughout the student body as a whole.

After having considered the proposition from the standpoint of justice to the members of this class, individually, and the protection and welfare of this class as a whole, this committee makes the following report and recommendations relative to the establishment of a class court:

1. That there be established a class court.
2. That the number of judges, to be chosen from the members of this class, shall be five.
3. That this court will have power to function and perform its usual duties only when sitting in open court and only when at least three of its members are present.
4. That the members of this judicial body will select, from among their number, one who is to act as the presiding justice at each hearing.
5. That in the absence of the person chosen as the chief justice at any hearing or official business coming before the body, then that those members present may proceed to elect one of their number to act as chief justice for that hearing or until the termination of the matter before the court.
6. That the sittings of this court shall not be secret, but must be open to all members of this class and such others as the class may designate, subject to the will of the faculty.
7. That there shall be no official hearing before this court and no official sitting of this court without at least four days' notice to the class, the announcement to be made in the usual way.
8. That no member of this class shall be brought up for trial unless he has been given at least four days' notice of the offense of which he is charged.
9. That the case for the class will be presented by counsel chosen by the executive committee.
10. That the accused shall be given the privilege of selecting his own counsel from among the members of the class.
11. That the usual common law proceedings, rules of evidence, presumptions and the introduction of evidence shall be the guide for all hearings before this court.
12. That this court shall have jurisdiction only over matters alleged to be in violation of the George Washington University Student Council oath, to wit: "That I have neither given nor received any unauthorized aid during the course of this examination."
13. That this court shall have jurisdiction to hear the evidence of both parties and render its verdict of guilty or not guilty.
14. That the right to impose any sentence or penalty upon any member of this class found guilty of having violated the above oath shall rest and be imposed in the class as a whole, in the light of the recommendation of the court.
15. That a proposal for the imposition of sentence shall be made in the usual way, by motion, and that it shall require a vote of two-thirds of the class present before the motion can be passed.

EXPECT TO FORMULATE G. W. SOCIAL CALENDAR

Plans are well under way for the perfection of a social calendar that will embrace the social activities of all the organizations of the University. A committee of the Student Council, headed by Glenn Corbett, has formulated plans and will present a report at the next meeting of that body. It has been shown that in past years when there was no schedule of social events, classes and other organizations scheduled and held dances and parties at any time they so desired. Two or more dances were not infrequently held on the same night, and as a result many were poorly attended and were not successful from a social or financial standpoint.

It is with a hope of eliminating conflicts the council is advocating adoption of a set calendar, and it is with this end in view all organizations are requested to submit to Mr. Corbett at least a tentative schedule of their proposed activities. Upon receipt of these schedules the committee will by comparison endeavor to overcome as many conflicts as is possible.

THE HATCHET CONDUCTS SUBSCRIPTION CAMPAIGN

The University Hatchet may now be had by nonsigners of the Student Activity Tax upon payment of $1.50 for the remaining issues of the year. This opportunity is being afforded the students because it is believed many are interested in their college paper who do not desire to pay the full amount of the student tax.

The University Hatchet represents every activity on the campus, and is the only way to keep in touch with the affairs of the college. An intensive campaign is to commence today, and students may sign subscription blanks at any time in The Hatchet office, or may communicate with A. C. Richmond, Business Manager, 2023 G Street.

MEDIC. FROSH ENTERTAIN

The Medical freshmen commenced their social activities by giving the freshmen Medical dance in the chapel of Lisner Hall on Friday, November 18. Miss Schultze and Miss Wootan entertained during the course of the evening with several excellent vocal selections, and Dr. Jenkins made a short address to the class.

TEACHERS TO DANCE.

A subscription dance will be given by the Junior Class of Teachers College on December 17 at 1812 M Street. It was announced at the meeting of the class held November 16. The tea given by the class on November 12 was in every way a success, according to Mildred Yost, class president.

ADDRESSES LEGAL CLUB.

"It has become an accepted fact in the legal profession that a woman can put up a good argument in the court room and still retain all her womanly qualities," said Mrs. Mabel Willebrandt, Assistant Attorney General of the United States, in an address before the Women's Legal Club of G. W. U. at their monthly dinner November 16. Mrs. Willebrandt, a charming speaker and a woman whose professional career is a credit to her sex, emphasized the progress made by legal women in the brief period during which they have been admitted to the bar, and furthermore gave her audience friendly and helpful advice interspersed with anecdotes and personal experiences.

The Women's Legal Club hopes to have a series of women who are prominent in the legal profession talk at the monthly dinners of the organization during the school term.

SENIORS TO MEET TUESDAY

There will be a meeting of the Senior Class on next Tuesday evening, November 29, at 8 p. m. Important business will be taken up, and the president requests that all members attend on time.

16. That this plan be submitted to the faculty for their approval or disapproval.

LAUDS MAINTENANCE OF QUIET IN G. W. LIBRARY

Prof. Schmidt Notes Better Observance of Rules in Hall of Study; New Books Received.

Prof. Alfred F. W. Schmidt, Librarian of George Washington University, and several other members of the faculty have expressed themselves as being pleased with the way the students have responded to the observance of the rules of the library this term.

The present library quarters are very inadequate, and, as the reading room is in a very noisy location, the sympathetic cooperation of the students in the observance of the rules will be necessary, Prof. Schmidt explained.

A pamphlet has been issued by the library containing not only the rules and regulations, but also an interesting history of the library. This pamphlet is being distributed in the library.

Lack of space is the biggest problem of the library, but new books are being added constantly. Some of the recent additions are:

Dickinson, Thos H., The Contemporary Drama of England; Elton, Oliver, A Survey of English Literature; Chambers, E. K., The Mediaeval Stage; Hornblow, Arthur, A History of the Theater in America; Cejador y Frauca, Historia de la Lengua y Literatura Castellana; Wilson, George G., The First Year of the League of Nations; Tyler, John M., The New Stone Age in Northern Europe; Bok, Edward William, The Americanization of Edward Bok; Tardieu, Andre, The Truth About the Treaty; Lodge, Henry Cabot, The Senate of the United States; Moses, Montrose J., The American Dramatist; Burgess, May Ayres, The Measurement of Silent Reading; Wells, M. E., A Project Curriculum; Hudson, Jay Wm., The College and New America; Boucke, O. Fred, The Limits of Socialism; James, Herman G., Local Government in the United States; Conklin, Edwin G., Heredity and Environment; Blakeslee, Geo. H., Mexico and the Caribbean; Wilder, Harris H., A Laboratory Manual of Anthropometry; Bordeaux, H., La vie au theatre, 1913-1919; Irwin, I. H., The Story of the Woman's Party.

FEW GRADUATES VOTE.

Whether there has been an election in the Graduate School will be decided upon at the next meeting of the Student Council. Less than 5 per cent of the members of the class voted, and the chairman of the elections committee of the Student Council does not consider this a fair representation of the will of the class.
